THRILLING STORY OF WRECKED CREW.

TERRIBLE SUFFERINGS IN AN OPEN BOAT.

New York, January 3.

The British steamer Hotham Newton, from Middlesbrough, England, brought to Jersey City to-day seven survivors with a thrilling story of shipwreck in mid-ocean, of the sinking of the captain along with his vessel, of their faithful sufferings in an open boat, and of the final rescue, while their eight comrades had probably lost their lives.

When rescued the seven men had been without food for three days, and the only water which they had to drink was such that they wrung from their clothes, after a rainpour. Several of the men were in a pitiable condition.

Their ship, the Germanic, was abandoned on 9 Dec., but it was not until five days later that the Hotham Newton, a tank oil steamer, consigned to Philip Ruprecht, of the Standard Oil Company, came upon the scene and picked up the survivors. The shipwrecked men were so completely exhausted that they were unable to get alongside the Hotham Newton.

HER SEAMS OPENED UP.

The Germanic left Weymouth, N.S., on 23 Nov. with a cargo of wood pulp for Fleetwood, England. On 1 Dec. she encountered the first of a series of severe storms. The bark labored heavily, and seams opened up like a sieve.

The crew went to the pumps on 5 Dec., but abandoned all hope on 9 Dec., when the seas broke over the vessel, tearing up her main decks and washing away her poop deck.

Two lifeboats were provisioned and supplied with some fresh water. At noon on 9 Dec. the wreck had sunk so deep in the sea that it was decided to leave her. The mate, John Swanson, was given charge of one boat, with seven men, and was the first to leave the doomed bark.

The other boat, which was secured to the port quarter, had eight men, and was to have been in charge of Capt. Johansen. The commander, with one hand on the topping life of the sparker boom, was giving final instructions to the men how to take their places in the boat when an extra heavy wave rolled the bark over. The captain was thrown into the sea.

CAPTAIN AND VESSEL SANK.

The boat backed away from the wreck just in time to avoid being pulled down in the suction. The captain attempted to swim, and took a few strokes. Then he threw his hands up in the air and disappeared. The barque also sank out of sight within a minute.

The occupants of the two boats cruised around in the hope of saving the master, and the mate's boat finally came across his body, but he was dead.

The boats tried to keep together, each burning a light, but after two hours they separated. The second boat was never seen again.

In the first boat one man sang to keep up the courage of the others, but when he gave a Norwegian lullaby they asked him to sing no more.

After two days without food it began to rain, and the men laid a tarpaulin along the bottom and secured as much water as the holes in the tarpaulin would permit. The men were drenched to the skin, and their clothes began to freeze on them.

DRANK RAIN-WATER.

One of them took off his jacket, and with the aid of another wrung out the rain into a small tin can. Then they all drank it, muddy though it was.

It took more than a week of careful nursing on the Hotham Newton to bring the men around sufficiently to enable them to tell what they knew of the disaster. They tried to bail several vessels, once Swanson tearing open his oilskin coat and setting it aflame, but attracted no attention.

At noon on 17th December they sighted the Hotham Newton. Swanson was clinging to an oar with frozen hands, when night fell and they lost sight of the vessel, but Swanson had just sufficient strength to set another piece of oilskin on fire. In quick response the British vessel hoisted to.

ESCAPED FROM SIBERIA.

SON RETURNS HOME ON CHRISTMAS EVE AFTER MANY ADVENTURES.

Berne, January 2.

The Christmas of an aged couple named Gehl at Morgs was made excessively glad by the return of their only son, who had escaped from exile in Siberia after many adventures.

Maurice Gehl went to Russia in 1904 as a professor of French. He soon allied himself with the revolutionary party, and last year he was arrested. After waiting nine months in prison for trial he was at last sentenced to deportation to Siberia for life, in spite of the Swiss Ambassador interceding with M. Stolypin.

During the journey to Siberia young Gehl succeeded, with two other prisoners, in escaping. The latter returned to Russia, but Gehl, by means of false passports and some money which he had hidden in his boot, continued his journey in disguise along the Siberian railway.

His state of mind may be imagined when he saw posted on the railway station notices of his escape and warrants for his re-arrest. However, he reached Vladivostok safely in October, and there he embarked for Yokohama. Then he telegraphed home for money, which was promptly sent, and he left for Europe by the next steamer.

COMMERCIAL. FRESH MARKS.

Messrs. Lamke and Rogge report in their fortnightly circular of the 8th inst. —
With the exception of business from Saigon, which has continued to absorb some tonnage, chartering operations during the fortnight have been limited in point of number, the effect of the Chinese New Year holidays making itself felt as usual. These festivities have come to a close now, and it is to be earnestly hoped that, after the long period of languor, which freights have gone through on this coast, an improved state of affairs will at last set in, not only as far as the volume of trade is concerned but also in the matter of actual profits.

Chartering from Saigon to this constitutes the bulk of the business done, and rates in that direction, have by slow degrees been worked up to 16 cents per picul. At the latter figure more tonnage, though of medium size only and for later dates, can be placed, but such vessels becoming more scarce now, a further advance cannot fail to occur. Saigon to Philippines, two steamers secured for part cargoes 25 and 27 cents respectively. From Saigon to Java two charters have taken place at 24 and 25 cents respectively, and one from Saigon to Singapore on basis of about 16 cents per picul. In other directions from Saigon tonnage has not been inquired after.

Java and Bangkok business is so far conspicuous by its absence, respecting Bangkok principally due to exchange difficulties, and it is not expected that shipments on a larger scale be made until fully another month.

Coal freights are weak and neglected. We cannot quote better than $1.25 to $1.30 per ton Moji to this, at which rate some prompt tonnage might be placed. Kuchintou to Singapore has a fixture at $1.65, and 1 abutan to this at $1.75 per ton. Hong-y shipments have not yet been resumed after the holidays.

Sail Freights.—Nothing doing.
Sail Tonnage.—loading or to load.—None.
Sail Tonnage Disengaged.—None.
Departure of Sailers.—None.

THE HEALTH OF THE CHILDREN IS OF FIRST IMPORTANCE

SO SAYS THE REV. MOTHER SUPERIOR OF ST. JOSEPH'S, MANDALAY.
SHE RELATES HOW THE CHILDREN IN HER CONVENT SCHOOL ARE KEPT STRONG AND HEALTHY BY Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The St. Joseph's Convent School, of Mandalay, Burma, is an educational institution for girls and small boys. It is also a home for many children, and pleasant indeed is the lot of the little ones entrusted to the love and protection of the good sisters within its walls. "We consider it our duty to look after the health quite as much as the mental and spiritual well-being of the children," said the Reverend Mother Superior of St. Joseph's, when interviewed not long ago, "and," she added, "one of the medicines we find most useful among our girls and boys is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Requested to state more precisely her reasons for entertaining so high an opinion of these Pills the Reverend Mother Maria did so as follows:—"We find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills especially beneficial for the weak children," she explained, "I mean the children with poor appetites; who are growing too fast; or who get run-down through their studies. For example, take the case of one young girl. In her case the Pills worked wonders. She was just one of those girls without much life or nerve; she was always pale, listless, and despondent. She was Anemic; her appetite was bad, she suffered from headaches once or twice a week. I gave this girl Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and speedily she began to show marked signs of improvement. After about four bottles she was restored to health. This happened last year. Now she is one of our pupil teachers, she is strong and healthy, never complains of headaches, and performs her teaching duties with cheerfulness, and in a way which gives perfect satisfaction to all concerned.

St. Joseph's Convent School, Mandalay, Burma, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are regularly used as a most useful medicine for the girls and boys.

"Speaking generally," said the Reverend Mother in conclusion, "I am of opinion that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a most excellent Tonic medicine, and especially suitable for children. We have been using them fairly regularly for the past two or three years, and always have them on hand in case of need. I know also that when our Sisters come out fresh from Europe to carry on the work of the Order here they bring a supply of these Pills with them for their own use. It gives me pleasure to be able thus to record my high opinion of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for publication for the information of others."

Not for children only, but for men and women, young and old, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are suitable and beneficial. They are the most perfect blood medicine yet discovered, and it is because of their unique action—Tonic, whilst purifying the blood that they cure. The testimony of thousands of grateful, cured sufferers prove them to be the remedy for all disorders arising from a weak, scabidly diseased blood, such as anemia, Debility,

Headache, Nervousness, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Malaria, Paralysis, Pertussis, Rheumatism, Eczema, Boils, Pimples, the after effects of Fevers, Dysentery and Chills, and (especially) the ailments which trouble ladies between youth and middle life. These Pills can be had at most shops where medicines are sold, and also direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Cavanagh Bridge, Singapore, who send 6 bottles for $3/- or 1 bottle for $1.50, post free to any address. The Anglo-Russian Convention.

LONDON, 7th February.

During a debate in the House of Lords on the Anglo-Russian Convention, Lord Curzon said the fairness of the bargain was doubtful in respect to Afghanistan, bad in respect to Tibet, and worse in respect to Persia; the allocation of the Russian sphere was unjustifiable, economically and geographically. In regard to Chumbi, the treaty was an absolute surrender and almost a humiliation, and British preponderance in Tibet, which was assured, is now sacrificed. Lord Fitzmaurice said that, frankly, the Government was in favour of reducing their engagements in Tibet to a minimum, and withdrawing from the policy of adventure.

MASIRK AND SERVANT.

A CASE OF INTEREST TO HONGKONG MERCHANTS.

In the case of W. Heck v. Messrs. Arnhold, Karberg and Co., which was heard lately at the District Court, at Shanghai, before Mr. Vice-Consul Heintze, judgment for the defendants has been delivered in the following terms:—

The defendant has dismissed the plaintiff before the expiration of his three years' engagement and to refuse to pay his salary after the time of his dismissal. They state their right to dismiss him on the ground that the plaintiff has refused to perform his obligations, namely, the work of attending to telegrams of the greatest importance. But the plaintiff declares that by his engagement he was only employed as stenographer and typist. As he himself has shown, the most important part of his work was telegrams, and it having been proved that he had never once rationed during the fifteen months during which he had performed those duties that he was not obliged to do this work, the plaintiff is left with no standing. Regarding his refusal to work after five o'clock his Honour states that when such refusal is persisted in the dismissal is justified. The plaintiff in his correspondence with the defendants disputes the principle that it is customary to work after five o'clock. In pursuance of this he discontinued his work, although there were important matters to attend to, on three occasions in October. His perseverance in his refusal to work after five o'clock cannot leave a doubt that the same thing may happen in the future. Therefore judgment is given for the defendants with costs.

CHARTER PARTIES.

A NEW CONDITION.

A judgment handed down in Seattle recently by Judge Hanford creates a new rule as regards charter parties to be embodied in charter contracts between owners and contractors. He decided that the unreasonableness of a vessel when chartered or the incompetency of the master placed in charge by the owner are sufficient causes to release the charterer from any agreed responsibility for the unloading out-turn of the cargo at ports of discharge.

Judge Hanford ruled that, as a clause in the charter contract expressly stipulating that the owner is exempted from liabilities for the safe delivery of the cargo is rendered null and void by the existence of these conditions. In making his ruling Judge Hanford stated that the suit is maintainable to recover compensation for losses attributable to the unreasonableness of the vessel or to the incompetency of the master, if in fact the vessel was unseaworthy when delivered or if the master chosen by the owner was incompetent to participate in the voyage. A competent master, Judge Hanford ruled, is one of the essentials of the seaworthiness of a ship and the charterer is not to be held liable for the cargo unless the owner can be shown to have been negligent in the selection of the master.

EXPLOSION ON BOARD S.S. "NERITE."

TWO WORKMEN KILLED.

A somewhat serious explosion, attended by the loss of lives, occurred in Hongkong Bay yesterday afternoon.

Two of the Dock Company's employees—Lo Shu, a fitter, thirty-eight years of age, and Chan Chuen, a lad of fifteen, were killed outright, while another man, whose name could not be ascertained, was so seriously injured that the chances of his recovery are considered small.

The scene of the explosion was on board the oil tank steamer Nerite, which was anchored to the bay at the time, alongside the steamer Shanling. The Nerite, it was explained, had just arrived in the bay from Aberdeen Docks for completion of her repairs.

The explosion occurred at about eleven o'clock, at a time when, luckily for themselves, most of the labourers were away. Without the slightest warning a terrific bang was heard coming in the direction of the forehold, which shook the ship from stem to stern, followed by a dense cloud of smoke and flame, which shot up several feet high from the forehold. Much of the frame-work at this part of the ship was damaged, and so little excitement followed the explosion.

Two men, who were working near the forehold at the time, gave a graphic story of the incident. "The report of the explosion," they said, "was loud, indeed, and the ship from stem to end. We did not know what had happened and could not make immediate investigation, for a second after the explosion fire broke out and a cloud of smoke and flame shot up from the hold. It was impossible to get near the hold at the time for fear of suffocation."

In the hold—the seat of the explosion—were two of the Dock Company's employees—Lo Shu and Chan Chuen and another, whose name could not be obtained—and they were attending to the tanks. Lo Shu and Chan Chuen were, apparently, killed instantly. The unknown man was blown through the hatch and fell back into the hold again, breaking his leg in the drop—some thirty feet. He was removed to hospital, where the leg was amputated later.

At the moment of the crash, we are given to understand, one of the officers, while entering his cabin was swept clean off his feet, while others, who were in their bunks, were rudely awakened. After the excitement had subsided one of the ship's officers, soon after the smoke had cleared, entered the hold and got the injured man to the deck by means of a rope, while the doctor of H.M.S. Robin, who had arrived on board by this time, attended to the unfortunate man. The mutilated bodies of the other two workmen were found on the deck and removed to the mortuary. They were found in one corner, with their scalps almost torn off and with almost every stitch of clothing scorched away.

The fire-boat put in an appearance, but there was no need of her services. The cause of the explosion was due to the fact that one of the workmen entered one of the uncleaned tanks with a naked light to attend to one of the pipes, igniting the accumulated gases in the hold. The damage done to the ship is estimated at $500.

SMALL-POX EPIDEMIC IN JAPAN.

LATEST OFFICIAL RETURNS.

Official returns show that up to the 25th ult. there has been no fewer than 3,344 cases of small-pox in Kobe since the outbreak of the epidemic about November last. Of this number 1,182 cases have proved fatal, and 1,004 have recovered, while at the time that the report was compiled there were 1,153 patients under treatment.

The number of small-pox cases recorded during the past week is very large. On Saturday 136 fresh cases were reported while on Sunday there were 115 new cases. The fluctuation in the number of cases of small-pox reported in Kobe of late will be seen from the following official returns:—

The authorities are still actively engaged in their efforts to stamp out the disease, and it is to be hoped they will not relax them, for it is evident that the scourge has got a fairly firm hold, especially in the poorer districts. The dry weather has materially assisted the authorities in their disinfecting operations, and during the past few days on the piece of waste ground adjoining the Fukui district on the outskirts of the town, the men, dressed in their white overalls, have been busily disinfected with sulphur fumes. Bundles of futons and other articles of clothing taken from the houses of the infected patients, in this part of Kobe, were carried off to late against a large number of the articles being carried and destroyed.

A new sanitary charge has been imposed on the owners of houses in Kobe, according to the new regulations, which are to be enforced from the 1st of March. A charge of 100 yen (1000 yen) will be levied on the owner of a house if it is found to be infested with small-pox. The charge will be levied on the owner of a house if it is found to be infested with small-pox. The charge will be levied on the owner of a house if it is found to be infested with small-pox.

PLAGUE PREVENTION IN OSAKA.

WHOLESALE DESTRUCTION OF RATS.

The destruction of rats and mice is now considered by Japanese authorities to be the most effective measure for the prevention of plague, and the authorities of Osaka are concentrating their energies upon the destruction of these vermin. Twenty-six rat-catching parties, each consisting of 12 men, commenced operations on the 7th ultimo under the direction of the various police-stations in the city. Up to the 20th instant these men had succeeded in destroying 9,128 rats and mice, in addition to 4,844 animals caught in rat-traps distributed among the houses. During the period quoted, 3,247,843 balls of arsenic paste were distributed among 86,841 houses. Presuming that three balls out of every 100 were eaten, the number of rats killed by poisoning would be 97,130, so that the total number of vermin destroyed in a fortnight is estimated at 111,508. (The old "8" is very characteristic of such Japanese calculations.)

The rat-catchers have now settled down to their work in earnest, and the number of vermin caught daily—either by these men or in traps—is about 2,000. Arsenic paste balls are now distributed daily to the number of 300,000 and by this means it is estimated that at least 9,000 rats will be killed. In addition to these, about 2,300 rats and mice are brought in to the police by the public for purchase daily, and about 1,000 more are caught during the cleaning of houses. Thus the total number of rats and mice destroyed daily in the city of Osaka is believed to be about 17,800. But the authorities are not content with this; they have decided to destroy 22,000 a day, or 660,000 a month.

The Osaka-fu Government has issued an order instructing restaurants, rice-dealers and others to whose premises rats are likely to be attracted, to keep not less than five rat-traps in each house. The houses which are affected by this regulation number about 13,000, and it is hoped that the result of this order will be to largely add to the total number of vermin destroyed.

SERIOUS FIRE IN KOBE.

FOREIGN HOUSE DESTROYED.

The Japan Chronicle of 26th ult. reports:—A fire broke out last evening at a little before 7 o'clock at the residence of Mr. W. J. Schrohr, Yamamoto-dori, 1-chome, the house being almost completely gutted in a little over an hour.

The fire originated in the cellar, but the cause of the outbreak is unknown. The house was unoccupied at the time, Mr. and Mrs. Schrohr being out. Mr. Wilckens, who occupies the house opposite, was startled by the appearance of dense clouds of smoke in the street and could not at first locate its origin, but eventually it was traced to Mr. Schrohr's house, where Mr. Wilckens, finding it impossible to make any one hear, succeeded in forcing an entrance. Meanwhile the alarm had been raised, but for some unaccountable reason the fire brigade were a long time in making their appearance. However, when they arrived they managed to put in some smart work and soon overcame the flames, which at one time assumed serious proportions and threatened to envelop the neighbouring buildings.

The opinion was expressed by eye-witnesses that had the fire brigade arrived in due time the house would have been saved, as it was some while after the appearance of the smoke before the fire gained a hold.
